

2019 Polanyi Society Annual Meeting Call for Papers

The 2019 Polanyi Society Annual Meeting will be held in San Diego, California. The meeting will be held on Friday, November 22, 2019, immediately prior to the American Academy of Religion's annual meeting and the week before Thanksgiving. We expect to have at least two sessions on Friday. If the number of accepted papers warrants a third session, either a Thursday evening (November 21) or Saturday morning (November 23) session will be added.

As in the past, we invite paper proposals on any topic related to Polanyian thought that interests you. Below are several possible topics that recently have been suggested or partially discussed and which seem to have the potential for interesting presentations:

- Post-critical response to outcomes assessment in education
- Knowing versus understanding in Polanyian perspective
- Polanyian understandings of interpretation and frameworks
- A Polanyian version of virtue epistemology
- Michael Polanyi as reflected in Gareth Dale's Karl Polanyi: A Life on the Left
- Polanyi's social and political thought and contemporary politics and culture
- Elements worth developing further in Polanyi and Prosch's Meaning
- The Meaning Lectures in relation to Polanyi and Prosch's Meaning
- Post-critical approaches to history (or sacred texts)
- The use and limits of passion and desire in post-critical psychology

A proposal of about 250-300 words should be sent as an attachment to Walter Gulick (wgulick@msubillings.edu) by May 1. This Call for Papers and updated information on papers accepted, the final schedule, etc. will be posted on polanyisociety.org.
