“Social Capitalism” is a 2200-word Michael Polanyi opinion piece, published in Time and Tide in 1946. It provocatively reflects some of Polanyi’s mid-century social and political ideas as well as his developing account of the history of economic ideas. This short essay was discussed in a Polanyi Society-sponsored Zoom Discussion on 12 June 2020. The recording for this session is available as the opening component at http://polanvisociety.org/Zoom9-12June20/SocialCapitalism-KP-MP-panel-12June20.mp4. In 2021, the two essays listed below discussing “Social Capitalism” were published in Polanyiana 28.

This material is made available for non-commercial use by scholars and students.