

NOTES ON CONTRIBUTORS

EDUARDO BEIRA (ebeira@gmail.com) is currently a Senior Research Fellow at the IN+ Center for Innovation, Technology and Public Policy at Técnico (U. Lisbon) and a faculty member in the MIT Portugal Program. He taught at the University of Porto before spending more than twenty years as a corporate manager. He returned to academic life in 2000 as professor at the University of Minho in Portugal. Since 2008, he has translated into Portuguese The Tacit Dimension, The Study of Man, and Personal Knowledge, and Science, Faith and Society, along with selected essays on science and technology.

MARTIN X. MOLESKI, S.J., (moleski@canisius.edu) is a Jesuit priest and Professor at Canisius College in Buffalo, New York. He has degrees from Boston College (BA, English, 1973), Fordham University (MA Humanities, 1977), and The Catholic University, of America (PhD, 1991). His most recent publication is Judging Religion Justly: A Catholic Introduction to Religious Studies, Cognella University Readers, 2011.

RICHARD W. MOODEY (MOODEY001@gannon.edu) received his Ph.D. in Sociology from the University of Chicago and has taught at Loyola University of Chicago, Allegheny College (Meadville, PA) and Gannon University (Erie, PA). He is currently a professor emeritus from Allegheny and a visiting professor at Gannon, where he is serving as the interim chair of the Department of Criminal Justice and Social Work.

PHIL MULLINS (mullins@missouriwestern.edu) is Professor Emeritus at Missouri Western State University and is also Editor Emeritus of TAD. He has written essays connecting Polanyi or Polanyian ideas with other thinkers, including H. Richard Niebuhr, Marjorie Grene, Harry Prosch, and Charles Sanders Pierce. He is particularly interested in the historical development of Polanyi's philosophical perspective and has most recently focused on Polanyi's efforts to reform liberalism.